

Royal Holloway
University of London
Egham, Surrey
TW20 0EX

3rd September 2024

Tel: 01784 443649

Email: ian.candy@rhul.ac.uk

To whom it may concern,

I would like to be considered for the role of the Chair of the British Society for Geomorphology. Much of my research is based on understanding how landscapes and surface processes respond to climate and environmental change in the recent past which links well with the focus of the BSG. In the early stages of my career I benefited greatly from the support of the society, this included advice and guidance from colleagues at annual conferences and workshops as well as receiving the Gordon Warwick Award. I would now like to be able to support the society in return and in particular assist the next generation of geomorphologists. I have experience of helping to run scientific associations, acting as the Publications Secretary for the Quaternary Research Association (2010-2014) which involved preparing and editing the History of the Quaternary Research Association volume that was published to celebrate its 50th anniversary. In my capacity as Vice-Dean for Education and Student Experience at Royal Holloway (University of London) I have experience of sitting on and chairing committees as well as being involved in initiatives in areas such as outreach and EDI. I hope that this experience would be beneficial to the BSG and make me a good candidate for the role

I attach a brief CV for your consideration.

Best wishes

A handwritten signature in dark ink, appearing to read 'Ian Candy', on a light blue background.

Ian Candy

Prof Ian Candy
Professor of Geography
Department of Geography
Royal Holloway, University of London
Egham, Surrey, TW20 0EX