

Dr. Robert (Bobby) Houseago:

Application Statement for BSG Publications and Communications Secretary.

I am writing to apply for the position of Publications and Communications Secretary. Having held positions within the BSG as Postgraduate Representative during my PhD, and as the Academic Representative on the Professional Geomorphology Committee, I am well embedded in the BSG and committed to the society's success. Within my role as Academic Rep., I have worked to increase the accessibility of the seminar series through a dedicated webpage and the availability of recordings via YouTube. My familiarity with the website provides a firm grounding to contribute to the Publications Sub-Committee, where I am keen to support the future development of the website to enhance the society's marketing and publicity efforts. As an active peer-reviewer for Earth Surface Processes and Landforms, I am excited by the opportunity to engage further with published outputs associated with the BSG – including ESPL in coordination with Wiley. As an editor of the Geomorphological Techniques book, I will work to make Geomorphological Techniques more accessible and up-to-date, given that the most recent chapters are dated 2016 in the latest edition available via the BSG webpage. I will also work to encourage more applications, including PhD Researchers / Early-career researchers, to ensure its long-term success, reach, and impact.
