

BSG Postgrad Conference Attendance Award report

Andy Emery

Institute of Applied Geosciences, School of Earth and Environment, University of Leeds.
ee06ae@leeds.ac.uk

I gratefully received £260 from the BSG to aid attendance at the EGU General Meeting, 8th-13th April 2018. Details of expenditure are shown below.

I attended EGU in order to present an oral paper on initial results of my PhD studies on Holocene coastal evolution under rapid sea-level rise at Dogger Bank. I received many positive reviews of the talk, so by all means this was a successful trip. I was also involved in co-convening and organising the session from its outset and chaired the poster session during the evening. This was valuable experience, gaining me a brilliant insight into how conferences work, how to read and evaluate abstracts and make decisions on who should present. EGU was also successful for me in terms of meeting and expanding my network, making new friends, and starting off potential future collaboration. Overall, it was a hugely valuable experience for me and I am very grateful to the BSG for enabling me to attend.

Breakdown of expenditure:

	ACTUAL	Budget	Difference
APC	£37.00	£40.00	-£3.00
Registration	£207.44	£350.00	-£142.56
Travel	£291.90	£300.00	-£8.10
Accommodation	£326.69	£300.00	£26.69
Food	£114.37	£210.00	-£95.63
total	£977.40	£1,200.00	-£222.60
Funding source
BSG	£260.00
RTSG/other sources	£717.40		